More due diligence: our findings confirmed

Topic: We had a call with Mr Martin Bergler to discuss SandT Holding and IMG China and cross-check information provided to us by S&T. Our conclusion: everything checks out. We also found Mr Bergler an interesting character witness for today's management team. Please see further below for more detail on this.

Mr Bergler was the CFO of S&T System Integration and Technology Distribution AG between 1998 and 2011. Between 2011 and 2013, he worked as external advisor to S&T AG, i.e. the entity that came out of the merger between Quanmax AG and S&T System Integration and Technology Distribution AG. Today, Mr Bergler is the CFO and one of the partners of BTM, an Austrian Energy Management Services company.

Recall that Viceroy claims that S&T operates a structure of undisclosed off-balance sheet entities to hide corporate fraud. It cites SandT Holding and IMG China as likely off-balance sheet entities.

We disagree. In our updates released on Monday (Dec. 20) and Wednesday (Dec. 22) we have demonstrated that neither SandT Holding nor IMG China are hidden off-balance sheet entities.

In the case of SandT Holding, S&T owns a 5% minority stake, which shows up in the balance sheet under „other financial assets“, valued at € 25k. S&T has no control over SandT Holding and never received a dividend. Indeed, the entity in the Ukraine barely breaks even, explaining why there is no minority interest in the P&L.

In the case of IMG, we have found official documents from China's National Equities Exchange and Quotations revealing the shareholder structure. IMG China is owned by board members, including Mr Li Hongbo. There is no relationship to S&T, other than the fact that IMG used to be a subsidiary of S&T more than 10 years ago. It was fully divested in 2010, according to the 2010 Annual Report of S&T System Integration & Technology Distribution AG.

The discussion with Mr Bergler fully confirms our findings on SandT Holding and IMG China. Please find on the next page what he remembers from the dealings. –Cont.-

Company description:

Leading IoT solutions provider targeting industrial, medical, avionics, smart energy, and other applications

- IMG China was a very small entity fully divested in 2010, and the relevant accounts from the time should disclose this (H&A: they do). Mr Bergler recalled that IMG China was sold to local management and remembered the name of Mr Li Hongbo when we raised it.
- A Russian partner created the SandT Holding structure to acquire selected S&T subsidiaries in 2010 / 2011, according to Mr Bergler (H&A: the Russian partner is Mr Malshakov, the subsidiaries were S&T Moldova, Russia and the Ukraine). He went on to say that proceeds from this divestment supported the refinancing of the group. Mr Bergler also recalled that S&T agreed to license its brand to the Russian partner for the subsidiaries, though he does not remember the exact licensing conditions. The licensing helped S&T achieve a better price for the entities.

The last point is very important as Viceroy repeatedly asks why the entity in the Ukraine would be using the S&T brand if it did not belong to the group (see for example page 9 of the Viceroy report).

We also found Mr Bergler an interesting character witness for both Mr Niederhauser (S&T's CEO) and Mr Neuwirth (S&T's CFO). These were his impressions at the time:

- Mr Bergler states that he remembers Mr Neuwirth as someone who „worked diligently and properly“ and who already back then looked primed to become a Managing Director sooner or later. Mr Bergler got to know Mr Neuwirth rather well, given that Mr Neuwirth already worked for S&T in the noughties (Richard Neuwirth was not part of the management board at the time).
- Mr Bergler had contact with Mr Niederhauser during negotiations for a private placement in 2011. Back then, Quanmax AG was looking to subscribe to a private placement in S&T System Integration & Technology AG (the deal happened in November 2011). Mr Bergler remembers Mr Niederhauser as a „tough negotiator“ and appreciated his trustworthiness. He stated that a handshake with Mr Niederhauser was worth a signed contract.

We would like to emphasize that we reached out proactively to Mr Bergler. Our call was neither organized by S&T nor did we give management a heads up. We find this relevant, given that there were no discrepancies in the information provided separately to us by both parties. Reiterate BUY.

4. Information Concerning the Methods of Valuation/Update

The determination of the fair value per share, i.e. the price target, and the resultant rating is done on the basis of the adjusted free cash flow (adj. FCF) method and on the basis of the discounted cash flow – DCF model. Furthermore, a peer group comparison is made.

The adj. FCF method is based on the assumption that investors purchase assets only at a price (enterprise value) at which the operating cash flow return after taxes on this investment exceeds their opportunity costs in the form of a hurdle rate of 7.5%. The operating cash flow is calculated as EBITDA less maintenance capex and taxes.

Within the framework of the DCF approach, the future free cash flows are calculated initially on the basis of a fictitious capital structure of 100% equity, i.e. interest and repayments on debt capital are not factored in initially. The adjustment towards the actual capital structure is done by discounting the calculated free cash flows with the weighted average cost of capital (WACC), which takes into account both the cost of equity capital and the cost of debt. After discounting, the calculated total enterprise value is reduced by the interest-bearing debt capital in order to arrive at the equity value.

Hauck & Aufhäuser Privatbankiers AG uses the following three-step rating system for the analysed companies:

Buy: Sustainable upside potential of more than 10% within 12 months
 Sell: Sustainable downside potential of more than 10% within 12 months.
 Hold: Upside/downside potential is limited. No immediate catalyst visible.

NB: The ratings of Hauck & Aufhäuser Privatbankiers AG are not based on a performance that is expected to be "relative" to the market.

The decision on the choice of the financial instruments analysed in this document was solely made by Hauck & Aufhäuser Privatbankiers AG. The opinions and estimates in this research report are subject to change without notice. It is within the discretion of Hauck & Aufhäuser Privatbankiers AG whether and when it publishes an update to this research report, but in general updates are created on a regular basis, after 6 months at the latest.
